INTRODUCTION

HILL DIRECTORY CO., Inc., publishers of Southeastern Directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1942 edition of the Winston-Salem City Directory, which also includes Konnoak Hills and Hanes.

Confidence in the continued growth of Winston-Salem's industry, population and wealth, and in the advancement of its civic and social activities, will be maintained as sections of this Directory are consulted, for the Directory is a mirror truly reflecting Winston-Salem to the world.

The enviable position occupied by HILL'S Directories in the estimation of the public, has been established by rendering the best in Directory service. With an unrivaled organization, and having had the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the Winston-Salem Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the community.

Five Major Departments

The five major departments are arranged in the following order:—

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents and business and professional concerns is included in pages 17 to 504, on white paper. This is the only record in existence that aims to show the name, marital status, occupation and address of each adult resident of Winston-Salem and vicinity, and the name, official personnel, nature and address of each firm and corporation.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, preceding the Classified and separately paged from 1 to 52, on goldenrod paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of Winston-Salem and vicinity. The advertisements are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and merits a survey by all buyers eager to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. In a large commercial and industrial center like Winston-Salem, the necessity of having this kind of information immediately available, is obvious. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the many reference users of this City Directory service.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 557 to 611, on yellow paper. This department lists the names of all business and professional concerns of the whole community in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable catalog of the numerous interests of the community. The Directory is the common intermediary between buyer and seller. As such it plays an important part in the daily activities of the commercial and professional world. More buyers and sellers meet through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium.

THE DIRECTORY OF HOUSEHOLDERS, INCLUDING STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE, on pink paper, covers pages 613 to 713. In this section the named streets are arranged in alphabetical order, followed by the numbered streets in numerical order; the numbers of the residences and business concerns are arranged in numerical order under the name of each street, and the names of the householders and concerns are placed opposite the numbers. The names of the intersecting streets appear at their respective crossing points on each street. Features of this section are the designation of tenant-owned homes and the designation of homes and places of business having telephones.

Community Publicity

The Directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the community, depicting in unbiased terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as a manufacturing site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference, and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of Winston-Salem and vicinity.

The Winston-Salem Directory Library

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the Winston-Salem City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the Winston-Salem Chamber of Commerce, for free reference by the general public. This is one of more than 500 Directory Libraries installed in the chief cities of the U. S. and Canada by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, under whose supervision the system is operated.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

Toward a Better Understanding of Winston-Salem

WINSTON-SALEM, with more than the average share of taken-for-granted facilities found in any modern American city, is still cut definitely to its own pattern—and with good reason. This fact makes the community unusually interesting to visitors, inquirers and prospective residents.

The city had two separate beginnings, three-quarters of a century apart. SALEM was planned and named in the heart of 18th Century Europe, as the central town in a 100,000-acre tract purchased in Piedmont, North Carolina after long search for an ideal location, by the Moravian Church, a Protestant denomination of ancient (1457) Bohemian origin. Salem was started as a village project in 1766. WINSTON was originated, named and incorporated as the seat of Forsyth County by the State Legislature in 1849. Less than a mile separated the new Winston Court House Square from the old Salem Church Square.

The Moravians exemplified unity, even in the original Latin name for their denomination, Unitas Fratrum. Early settlers of Winston showed a willingness to work together with their neighbors in all matters for the public good. This explains why, after the two communities were consolidated into Winston-Salem in 1914, the motto became: "A city founded upon co-operation."

A respect for hard work was the heritage of the Moravians who settled Salem, and the way to growth for the struggling new town of Winston. This explains why 95% of the industries that give Winston-Salem leadership among manufacturing cities of the South are of local origin and/or ownership.

Education was regarded as a practical necessity in Salem, where good private schools attracted widespread patronage from almost the founding date of the community. Winston produced the great Dr. Calvin Henderson Wiley, founder of the public school system of North Carolina. With exceptional educational opportunities available over a long period, Winston-Salem has a cultural interest and development well above that of the typically industrial center.

Religious freedom motivated the founding of Salem and permeated the life of the neighboring community of Winston. The strong religious spirit of the city finds expression in the variety of denominations represented, the impressive church structures, and the host of visitors who come to Winston-Salem for the widely-known special services of the Moravians, notably the traditional Early Easter Service.

The practical pioneering and innate self-reliance that brought the founders of Salem from their European homelands to a place of their own selection and purchase in the New World continue to be strongly reflected in community characteristics and activities today. Winston-Salem leaders are men of long vision, common sense and initiative. They know by historic precedent that their city has never advanced one step nor gained one facility by any sort of "happy accident."

Winston-Salem was founded as a permanent home. Even the earliest structures were built for the years, and many of them still stand and serve.

These are among the salient factors that underly Winston-Salem's individuality and bring consistently into one compact pattern every aspect of the varied activities of this prosperous and well-balanced community.

"WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR CITY"

"The helpful kind of patriotism is the kind that grows out of a knowledge of one's town, of her growth, her people, her property, her government and her needs. This knowledge develops, first, an intelligent interest; then, a sympathy; then a reasonable affection, a wise and temperate jealousy for her good name and a wish that she may prosper and grow more beautiful; and, finally, a desire to help her to become greater and finer, a bright and clean workshop and a home for the best of men and women."—John Cotton Dana.

Locating Missing Heirs
Finding Lost Persons

This is only one of the many offices that the modern directory successfully fills

The directories of the United States form a perpetual inventory of the human element of the nation as well as the business activities.

Police Departments, the country over, rely upon directory information for the location of lost persons. Lawyers and executors of estates are likewise dependent on the information that these "city catalogs" contain.

Real Esate buyers and agents have multitude occasions to refer to the pages of directories of other cities in order that they may have detailed and authentic information on parcels of land and subdivisions in which they have a personal or business interest.

Credit managers have unlimited use for the pages of the modern directory, as have collection managers and agencies.

The uses of the city directory are legion; the information is authentic and the manufacturers and companies that are represented therein are reputable and dependable.

Make More Use of Your City Directory ! ! !

HILL'S WINSTON-SALEM

Directory of Householders, Occupants of Office Buildings and Other Business Places, Including a Complete Street and Avenue Guide

1942

Copyright, 1942, by Hill Directory Co., Inc.

In the following list the named streets are arranged in alphabetical order, followed by the numbered streets in numerical order, the intersecting streets being shown. The number of each building on the street is given in numerical order, and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupants or houseowner or tenant. In the business blocks containing offices the occupants are shown by room numbers where practicable, in apartment homes the number denotes the number of the apartment. In all streets both sides of the street are included in one list. The profession or business of individuals or firms is given only at their respective place of business; to find occupation of others refer to Alphabetical List of Names.

The symbol ⓞ following a householder's name indicates that we have received information during the canvass that the house is owned by some member of the family, but as the publisher cannot and does not guarantee the correctness of the information furnished, nor the complete absence of mistakes no responsibility for errors can be or is assumed, nor can the publisher furnish further information than that shown.

* * * Between two intersecting streets designate there are no houses between them on that particular street.

The △ preceding names denotes householders and places of business having telephones.

(c) designates colored.
